

CARINO WILDLIFE CRUISES

Important Information:

- Clients consent to fill in our Carino Wildlife Cruises Risk & Medical Disclosure form.
- Clients accept that this activity inherently involves risks and potential hazards. The risks and hazards include but are not limited to falling/tripping on the vessel or off the vessel, unexpected sea movement, sails and associated equipment, swimming/snorkeling, walking on island tracks and equipment failure.
- Snorkelling in the Bay of Islands is in the South Pacific Ocean and can be a strenuous activity that requires general physical fitness and good health. Sea conditions can be variable and water temperatures are generally relatively low. To snorkel and swim, safely, you should not be extremely overweight or out of condition.
- People with a heart condition need to check with their doctor, before they book, if snorkelling is a suitable activity for them.
- Tour is not suitable for children under 4yrs.